A photograph of a winding red brick path on a green lawn. The path is made of reddish-brown bricks laid in a herringbone pattern. It starts in the foreground and curves to the right, then back to the left, and finally curves to the right again as it recedes into the distance. The lawn is a vibrant green, and there are some trees and bushes in the background.

PARTY CREDITOR

The Secure Party Creditor Order Process

Getting Started

Becoming a secure party creditor is one of the first steps to becoming free and establishing your sovereignty as it allows you to take control of your freedom life and gain standing in law. Becoming a secure creditor is quite equivalent to taking the red pill and walking the red line. While there are many other processes involved to establishing your freedomty, becoming an SPC is a great first start we recommend and suggest everyone serious about taking their freedom to another level accomplish.

Getting started to become a Secure Party Creditor is easy, simple, fast, hassle-free, and does not require all that much. In fact, all that's really required from you is your birth certificate, which does NOT have to be authenticated to become a Secure Party Creditor. If you have the long form or short form birth certificate, either is sufficient to start this process. Not all our customers who become Secure Creditors have their Certificate of Live Birth authenticated and they are having success!

SPC Beginning Steps

If you entering the path to becoming a secure party creditor, here are the first action steps you're required to take:

1.) Open P.O. Box Address

The purpose of opening a P.O. box address is to remain on the private side. The P.O box separates you, the agent/heir with the DEBTOR. A Creditor dealing in commerce has to remain on the private side and not using your home address creates that separation, keeping you in the private jurisdiction.

2.) Take A Photocopy of your Birth Certificate

You'll be required to take a front photocopy of the front and back of your birth certificate. If you have the long form, Certificate of Live Birth, even better! Submit a photocopy of your COLB. If you do not have the Certificate of Live Birth, that's fine. Take a photocopy of whatever birth certificate copy you have.

3.) Appoint A Trustee

A second Trustee is required for you to appoint. This second trustee must be someone whom you trust wholeheartedly with your life and trust with your personal finances! If you do not trust this person enough with your life, best you do not even consider appointing them as your Trustee.

Your appointed Trustee should be someone who's loyal and would comprehend the basis of operating a trust and would take the role as your Trustee seriously. You do not need a jokester or someone who's deceitful as this will only cause troubles with your trust and the assets held in the trust.

This second Trustee has to be able to replace you. You are the First Trustee of your SPC Trust and you need a secondary Trustee who can act in your best interest if you were to not be around.

It's important to note that the Trustee cannot have two roles. They are either a Trustee or a Beneficiary. They cannot be both as that would be a violation in trust law.

Think about who you want to appoint as your secondary Trustee. If you need to change this information in the future, please let A.W.A.R.E know and our paralegals can correct this for you if you get our Secure Party Creditor package.

4.) Beneficiary or Beneficiaries: Who Will You Appoint?

This is another thing to think about: whom will you appoint as the beneficiary or beneficiaries of your trust? Included in your SPC package, you get a created for you, 14th Amendment Domestic trust which you'll learn how to operate at the end of the package as it's included in A.W.A.R.E's Secure Party Creditor book.

This proofing phase is used to ensure that all inputted information is correct and if you wish to make any corrections to the name of your second Trustee, addresses, etc... then you may do so in the proofing phase.

In the process of creating your Secure Party Creditor package, a 14th Amendment Citizen trust will be created for you which includes an estate EIN obtained for your ESTATE NAME. This EIN is linked only to your SPC Trust and will allow you to open a U.S. bank account.

To note, when you are sent your SPC package for proofing, you have enough time to proofread your package, with no rush on your end. You can take however much time needed to proofread your SPC package and decide who you'll like to appoint as your second Trustee and whom you'll appoint as your beneficiary or beneficiaries. Once you confirm all information is correct, it can take anywhere from 1-5 business days (or sooner) for your SPC package to be finalized, depending on what needs to be finalized. What is a Secure Party Creditor and How Becoming an SPC Can Benefit Me

Along the years, the term Secured Party Creditor (or in short, SPC) has become revered by many, especially from folks who seek higher levels of freedom and looking to reserve their unalienable rights. Some find it hard to describe what it means to be an SPC so we'll explain...

Becoming a Secure Party Creditor is an act of separating your living man or woman self from the ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, ENS LEGIS TRADENAME A.K.A STRAWMAN while protecting the assets and collateral of your ESTATE name by creating a security agreement with the date of your 18th birthday. By doing this, it creates you as a "secured party" or lien-holder over that name, thus, protecting the assets of the ENS LEGIS from lien, levy, seizure, garnishment, or forfeiture.

Due to the fraud of the legal name trickery game that you were unaware of when you were born, fraud does void all contracts if the party being defrauded takes affirmative action to call out the fraud. By securing yourself as a secure party creditor, you have effectively canceled out the frauds made upon us since birth and these are contracts that were done without your awareness and worse yet, without your consent! In order to make a lawful contract, at least the consent of two parties is required.

Becoming an SPC is more than just filing a UCC 1 and a Security Agreement. We always advice that you become learnith and stay consistent with your studies as it'll really help you in your path to becoming a secure creditor. You'll be tested and even threatened by these public officials, so you have to know how to assert yourself in an honorable, non-combative, non-adverse way to have the most success. If you lack the correct process to filing your secure party creditor package, you won't achieve much. Being an SPC is about maintaining the status and living as a private citizen not obligated to their statutory codes, rules or regulations (as that applies to the 14th amendment citizen-slave). You'll also be living as the trustee of a domestic public trust vessel who contracts and operates in the public venue.

ANSWERS

Q: How many people is this secure party creditor package for?

A: Our SPC package is for one individual only.

Q: After filing my SPC package, would I be able to access my Personal Treasury Account 101, yearly 4.25%, and the ENS LEGIS DTC account?

A: Currently, our paralegals are not prioritizing accessing the DTC or strawman account so we won't say "yes" to accessing the account question. However, once you are a secure party creditor, you'll be able to access such accounts as you have moved into the private side. But once again, A.W.A.R.E's paralegals does not advocate such account accessing so we can't say yes.

Q: Do I need to fill out two UCC 1's if I have two last names (my maiden name and married name)?

A: In cases where you have two last names, we would use the full name on your birth certificate as the primary debtor on your UCC 1 and add your married name as a debtor on the UCC 1 addendum.

Q: Will I be able to discharge my debts immediately after filing the SPC package?

A: Once you receive your green card from Puerto Rico, you can begin to start setting off your debts. Though, you can discharge without receiving your green card, we advise to wait because once you receive your green card, you have put the Puerto Rico Secretary of Treasury on notice of your SPC status/filing.

Q: I haven't received anything back from the UCC division and it's been two weeks. What now?

A: It may take more than 2 weeks to receive your UCC 1 filing number back. Be patient and wait. This is quite 'normal' to experience a slight delay in receiving back your UCC filing number form the first mailing.

Q: Do I really have to wait to mail out my second phase of SPC documents?

A: Yes, you do have to wait because the Notification of Record document requires your UCC 1 filing number which you receive in the mail after you've sent your first set of document mailings. Be patient.

Q: I legally changed my first and last name. How do I fill out a UCC 1?

A: The name on your original birth certificate is the name we'll use as the primary debtor on your UCC 1, and list your legally changed name as an added debtor on your UCC addendum.

Q: What Happens After I Place My Order?

A: You will be given an order number and should be automatically redirected to our custom "thank you" page where you'll need to choose Secure Party Creditor Order Form and fill it out so we have your information to process and complete your order.

Q: Why is there weird formatting in my SPC package?

A: This is intentional, correct and for a reason because you changed your status as a Secure Party Creditor so these formats will look 'foreign', but just to know, it's correct.

Q: Does the SPC package include hidden fees or services?

A: No, our SPC package does NOT include any hidden fees or services. You get what you order which is a Done For You SPC package with step by step filing instructions that you do yourself, as well as A.W.A.R.E's Secure Party

Creditor Basic User Guide eBook to educate you on what it means to be an SPC, benefits of an SPC, what an SPC is and what it isn't, and answers to your frequently asked questions.

A.W.A.R.E is a very transparent company. We do not hide anything.

Q: By becoming an SPC, will I be able to access mt DTC strawman trust account?

A: While you would be able to do that BEING a Secure Creditor (because you're on the private side), accessing the DTC STRAWMAN account is beyond the scope of the services we offer. Our paralegals don't specialize in that service and our SPC package does not include any DTC accessing instructions. This is something you would have to do extensive research and studying to be able to do and is an administrative process involved to go about that.

Q: Will I be able to access my birth certificate bond?

A: While this is one of the advantages of becoming a Secure Creditor, this knowledge is beyond the scope of the services we offer at the moment. Thus, we do not include any instructions or package that allows you to gain interest or access the funds from your birth certificate bond.

Q: Does my birth certificate have to be authenticated to become a secure party creditor?

A: No, not at all. In fact, many of our customers who became SPCs did not have their birth certificates authenticated. As long as you have your birth certificate, that's all that is required. If you have your birth certificate authenticated, even better!

If you have the Certificate of Live Birth, that is the most ideal!

Q: How long does it take to become an SPC with A.W.A.R.E?

A: It can take anywhere from 7 to 21 business days to get your SPC package created, or even up to 30 business days at most, depending on a few different factors such as how quick you proofread your package, and how much editing is required.

Q: How do I go about discharging my debts?

A: A.W.A.R.E offers an individual package that allows you to set off your debts via the most up to date process using forms 1040, 1040V and form 1096 along with sending a Cover Letter to Vendor, Dept. of Treasury and a Cover Letter to the Internal Revenue Service. All the documents and forms in our Utility Debt Setoff package is "done for you, you file."

Read more about our Utility Setoff Package here.

If you wish to discharge debts such as student loans, child support, business credit, mortgage, etc... we also have a different package for that which includes the done for you promissory note or negotiable instrument.

Q: Is it required that I get a P.O box address before getting this package?

A: Yes, most definitely! We highly recommend you opening a P.O box as this creates a private separation between your DEBTOR and you, the Secure Party. P.O box address keeps you on the private side, whereas using your home address is public, used for the debtor.
